Effect of sleep on counterregulatory hormone secretion in insulin-treated type 2 diabetic subjects. In healthy subjects, insulin therapy results in increased nocturnal insulin secretion. To investigate whether this response is altered in type 2 diabetic patients, we studied the nocturnal rise of C-peptide after overnight insulin (1 IU/kg body weight) injection in nine patients with insulin-treated type 2 diabetes and nine control subjects. In both groups insulin stimulated nocturnal C-peptide secretion with a peak at about 3 h (P How, when and why to sell your house in Ottawa You've been living in your dream house for quite a while, and now you need to consider selling it.
